AKHAND PARAM DHAM OF AMERICA MISSION STATEMENT

Our tax exempt, non-profit organization, both educational and charitable, is nonpolitical and non-denominational. The main objective is peaceful welfare and service of humanity providing:

1. Yoga and meditation
2. Classes and seminars
3. Retreats in America and India
4. Discourses for self awareness
5. Healing energy through therapeutic touch, sweat lodges, vision quests and dance ceremonies
6. Forgiveness and discipline workshops

This organization supports sadhu ashrams, children's homes, schools and hospitals in India and in the future for America's children.

HEART MISSION IN ACTION

BY THE REV. SALLY PERRY, SPIRIT MEDICINE

When I went to live in India in 1996, I had no idea what my future would hold. I was in India to integrate the “Cosmic Heart” I had been given.

Wake up, Sally. Cosmic means “of the universe, infinitely or inconceivably extended in space or time.” Its very basis is spiritual not material.

Heart: A symbol of the causal body as a center of being on the higher mental plane, and the receptacle of atma — buddhi, the spirit within. The heart also signifies the love principle and the higher affections.

— As defined in the Dictionary of all Scriptures and Myths

The heart — the heavenly city of Brahman¹

— Manduyka Upanishad 2, 7 (Hindu Scripture)

“God who is concealed within the heart... O man, meditate on the Name under the Guru’s² instruction, and thou shalt be happy in the temple of thy heart”

— *Nanak*³ — the Sikh religion Vol 1 pp 317-8.

God had spoken to my heart and I invite all to help me to awaken and open all hearts and minds to service.

In the Book of the Dead the heart is referred to as “mother” — the heart brings us into being. Also the causal body is called the “mother” through which the ego comes into the lower planes. It is the cause of incarnations. The casual body also is the “double” on a higher level of our personality.

When we obtain oneness our lower and higher selves merge. The heart then unites with the mind, giving intuition and wisdom. Our causal body is made perfect by purification of our personality so we can connect with God’s spirit enthroned in our heart.

So here I was discovering my heart would be the bridge for at least 30 years of work with India. God had spoken to my heart and I invite all to help me to awaken and open all hearts and minds to service. Join me or create your own heart mission. It’s in the doing we are given the power to do.

NOTES

1. The reality, the eternal, the infinite, the absolute, the supreme being, the one beside whom there is nothing else existent.

WONDEROUS JOURNEY TO

Each part of our November-December 2005 trip was so fulfilling that it was hard to determine which was separate from the others since they all flowed into a continuous blessing of precious, unbelievable, all-prevading love and light that is hard to define in human terms.

First, in Haridwar — called the Gateway To Heaven — along with a Russian Group, we had five days of teachings with Acharya Mahamandaleshwar Yugpurush Swami Paramanandji Maharaj (affectionately, known to all of us as “Swami”).

From there we went to Karnal to join Saint Babaji Ram Singh and were welcomed with the most unbelievable outpouring of love in action. There, for two days, we were able to do healing circles that touched over one hundred people. Babaji’s followers showed such joy for our work, and we were so delighted to be in the presence of Swami Parmanand’s dear friend, Babaji Ram. We left with an abundance of gifts, including a book I had requested on the history of the Sikh Gurus — truly a great book of divinely guided men.

Next the Taj Mahal gave everyone a stunning day of grandeur to absorb and we said goodbye to Stephanie Vay, Zoe Bryant and Burt Shaffer. Continuing on, we were in Vrindavin with Sadhvi Ritambharaji’s at Vatsalya Gram, which means a village of maternal love, providing for homeless children saved from the streets. We were amazed at this tremendous projection of love for those abandoned by life. Each home has a mother, an aunt, and a grandma to nourish and help develop six to seven children. There are sixteen homes now with plans for many more. We were blessed to be asked to do a Long Dance for the children in the evening. This was a mini dance since the children were only four to twelve years old. Usually I lead Long Dances through the night, but with the children, we did the ceremony for only about two hours. In the center we built a huge bon fire and Greg Smith and Thalia Morris lead the children in the dance while Patricia Clancy, Jan Willis, Nancy Higgins, Penny Petry and Lorraine Willey drummed and sang. Jodi Urban assisted me as I “smudged” and conducted the dance. The revered Saddhvi Ritambharaji (Didi Maa) looked on. Afterwards the children sang to us. Didi Maa said once a month they would continue to dance this ceremonial dance for the children. This Long Dance is danced at night, in equal segments dancing clockwise and counterclockwise, and it works on the subconscious mind to heal conflict.

SWAMI'S BIRTH VILLAGE

Swami surrounded by children at his birth village, Mawai Dham

Didi Maa gifted us all with shawls and mother Yashoda and Krishna statues. Our hearts were so full, but more was to come.

We took a fifteen-hour bus trip to Mawai Dham which is the holy birth place of our beloved Swami Parmanand. There a temple is half built on the spot where he was born. Here we saw the benefits of the work we have done in America — Akhand Param Akhand Dham of America has contributed by being able to provide with Swami's blessings an ambulance. With Dr. Armanani, we were able to buy one of four school buses to transport the 900 girls to school each day. These young girls would never have had a chance for education had it not been for the good fortune of Shri Gurudev (Swami Parmanand) being born there.

It was only in 2002 that the Prime Minister delegated funds to bring in roads and electricity and new pump handles for water into this previously primitive village. As the girls sang and performed their morning rituals, we all were moved to tears to have had the opportunity to stand on stage with Swami and feel the tremendous love he has. A love that can so quickly manifest a project so huge that only a God-realized being could possible create such greatness. I was in Mawai Dham in 2002, right after the dedication, and it is almost impossible for me to realize what has taken place in such a short time. These young girls will certainly grow up to serve their country in amazing ways.

Swami has now dedicated land beside the school for a college for these girls to continue their education. The girls continue to do the unbelievable, as against all odds, each one has passed their national test. Akhand Param Akhand Dham of America will continue to support the wonderful efforts of this most amazing village.

HEALING CIRCLE AND THE PEOPLE

Several years ago when I visited Saint Babaji Ram Singh, I mentioned that I would like to eventually have a healing school as part of Akhand Param Dham of America. He looked at me and said how about in India, and I responded that I had not thought of it, but why not, since lots of my service when I lived there was doing healing work.

He said, "Why don't you do a healing camp here?" I said, "Yes." Softly he spoke, "I think our people used to do those things." It was like a gentle breeze came through me to clear the way for the future work. I was not amazed to find in the Lonely Planet India the fact written that the Sikh's founder Guru Nanak was a farmer that preached, composed and sang hymns, performed many miracles, and stressed meditation on God's name as the best way to enlightenment.

Zoe Bryant,
Sallyji, Babaji
and Anju

All of this lead me to invite and attract healers to come on our Journey in November 2005 to India. After the first morning session in the doctor's office at the ashram we moved outside to do larger group healings. The word got around and many people were coming. By the next day we had over 50 in our circle and eight healers working as I lead meditations and chanting to release energy and prepare the group to receive the healing power that was so beautifully channeled through all the Americans that had journeyed there. In the two days we saw over 100 people and felt the joy of sending the light out to the people.

As we were leaving the next day, Saint Babaji Ram Singh invited us back for a week in 2006, and said he would also take us to the Golden Temple and perhaps play the beautiful healing hymns his group so greatly does. We left with so many gifts and hearts full and overflowing with the greatest joy. We shall return with open arms.

Thank you Great One for the invitation.

ANNUAL FUND

*Candle Lighting for Fundraiser in NY
Sponsored by Rick & Debi Goldman*

Akhand Param Dham of America is a federal tax exempt (509-A) non-profit organization that renders various services for the physical, mental, emotional and spiritual development of society. These services are educational, charitable, and healing.

Swami Parmanand Maharaj is the founder of 34 ashrams, 15 schools for poor children, 6 charitable hospitals, and a home for children saved from the streets developed on 43 acres that were donated for this purpose. His spiritual and social work in India brought him to the United Nations to speak at the first Millennium Peace Summit in New York, August 2000. He has joined Rev. Sally Perry on three visits in 2000, 2001 and 2002, bringing his philosophy and spiritual teachings to America. This year he plans a three-month tour.

The Rev. Sally Perry spent 17 years on the founding board of Cosmetology for the Virginia Beach Vocational-Technical School because of her interest in giving young people a chance at a better education. In 1984, after receiving the distinguished award of Outstanding Business Woman of the Year for the Hampton Roads region, Sally entered into an intensive spiritual journey, receiving her cleric title and creating her own healing practice, which eventually took her to India to meet and work with Swami Parmanand.

Please join Swami Parmanand and the Rev. Perry as they plan and produce charitable and educational programs here in America. They are taking on the project of building an ashram (community) with a meditation and prayer center where people of all faiths can come to retreat and attend lectures and exchange ideas to enrich and support the life of all. They also have set plans to create a children's home for those who have lost parents or guardians. This program will begin with summer camps and eventually become a facility where children can live and grow in a loving environment.

Like most not for profit corporations, Akhand Param Dham of America, East West Bridge supports itself on donations as well as sales of books published in America. Please be generous when considering your tax-deductible donation.

TESTIMONIALS

Oh — those circles are working all over the world, Sally...the fabric of energy circles the world. As you said — India vibrates to the 5th dimension — and you don't know what that feels like or what it means until you experience it. The words are not adequate to describe the experience. It must be exciting for you to see your work of so many years coming to fruition.

I've never told you about the massage school that I teach in. Yes, we teach massage, yet the real focus is spiritual energy. Teaching the students to be present — in the moment — with the client and to feel the healing that the soul is asking for. It's such an honor for me to be in the school — I have learned so much more about myself by being there, AND since India, I have a constant reflection of myself and the changes that I want to make. The "heartfeltness" I felt from those who served us in India has made a lasting impression on me. I want to BE that heart for/to others. They were a wonderful model for me.

THALIA MORRIS, ASHEVILLE, NC

It was wonderful hearing from you. You have given me so much — I can feel you close to my heart and I pray that I always remain connected. How grateful I am to God that our paths have crossed. May you always be blessed in mind, body and spirit.

KAMLA, DELHI, INDIA

Sally, Mother of the world. Transforms pain and suffering. Washes the soul with love and light. I am honored and blessed to have you as my teacher and Spiritual mother.

COMMITMENT AND DANCING

World Humanitarian Healer Visionary Teacher

BY THE REV. SALLY PERRY, SPIRIT MEDICINE

Our relationship to ourselves involves commitment as do the three dances we sponsor within the year. These dances help to dissolve anger and fears, heals the inner child and shifts consciousness and increases planetary changes. The Figure Eight Long Dance is a one year commitment done at night to heal subconscious conflicts. The Drum Dance for World Peace is a three-day dance with a six-year commitment, chiefed by Zoe Bryant. This works on the mental, emotional, physical and spiritual bodies to bring peace.

The Sun Moon Dance, is a four-day and four-year commitment that gives you vision of past, present and future. If you want clarity in your life mentally, emotionally and spiritually, and are really willing to do your work, this dance is for you. It brings a true ascension process that Christ talks about when he said "I am in the world, but not of the world."

All these dances use breath, matter and movement to evolve our consciousness into a higher realm connection that allows us to do what is good for us first, materially and spiritually, for our family, and then the community as a whole — all working as the perfected soul.
